NATIONAL ASA

RURAL AMBASSADOR AWARD

Aim of the National ASA Rural Ambassador Award

The National ASA Rural Ambassador Award is to:

- Provide young people with an opportunity to promote either rural Australia or New Zealand and to play a greater role in promoting agriculture and rural living.
- Discover the next generation of rural young leaders who have a strong commitment to the rural sector and an involvement and genuine interest for the Agricultural Show movement.

General Outline of the Award

The Competition being conducted in three stages:

Local Agricultural Show Level

The winner selected at the local level represents that Agricultural Society at the Group/ Chamber/ Association Final.

Group/ Chamber Level

The winner selected at the Group/ Chamber Final represents that Group/ Chamber in the Nation/ State/ Territory Final.

Nation/ State/ Territory Level

The winner of the Nation/ State/ Territory Final represents their Nation/ State/ Territory in the National ASA Rural Ambassador Awards.'

Competing Nation/ State/ Territory

- To pay for Competitors' travel from their capital city to the Hosting Nation/ State/ Territory capital city and return.

Entry Conditions Summary

The Conditions of Entry for the Competition include:

- Competitors must be permanent residents of Australia or New Zealand,
- Competitors must be aged between 20 and 30 years of age as at the 1st May of the year of the Nation/ State/ Territory Final.
- The Award is open to both males, females, and other genders.
- Must be nominated by an Agricultural Society.
- After winning a National ASA Rural Ambassador Award a Competitor is ineligible to compete again in the Competition.

National Rural Ambassador Diversity and Inclusion Statement

The National Rural Ambassador Award receives finalists from member states across Australia and aims to foster the development of 20- to 30-year-old people through the agricultural show movement. Our regulations are designed to recognise the diversity that exists within the Australian community, while our programs are to include activities that are accessible to any participant regardless of background and ability. Where participants may face challenges accessing parts of the program ASA will make reasonable adjustments or accommodations to allow participation where possible.

National Judges

- There should be four Judges on the National Rural Ambassador judging panel. Two (2) Judges to be selected by the ASA National Finals Working Group and two (2) Judges to be selected by the Host Royal Agricultural Society.
- People to be considered as Judges should have relevance to the National Rural Ambassador Award and its aims and objectives. Examples include past Rural Ambassadors, sponsors, media and primary industries representatives, local community peers, etc.
- Apart from the four Judges, at the time of judging, there should not be any other persons in the room.

Role of the Judge

- Try to put Competitor at ease.
- Give Competitor time to answer.
- Explain the purpose of the interview.
- Keep the goal of the judging in mind.
- Let the Competitor do most of the talking.
- Pursue questions that have not been adequately answered.
- Keep a record of key points and their impressions.
- Avoid premature decisions or those based on minor details.
- Follow the questioning strategy prepared.

Selection Criteria

The criteria that Judges should be looking for in a Competitor include:

- a) Primary production interests, involvement, and skills.
- b) Community involvement and other voluntary groups.
- c) Contribution to the local Agricultural Show Society – involvement, enthusiasm, versatility, ability to take and give direction, new ideas.
- d) Future goals.
- e) Interests/ hobbies.
- f) Knowledge of both local and general rural issues.
- g) Possibility of long-term involvement in the Agricultural Show Movement.
- h) Presentation.
- i) Personal achievements.
- j) Personality.
- k) Verbal communication during the interview and with colleagues.

Competitors require the ability to communicate and articulate their point of view. They should not only have a good general knowledge but be able to express oneself well.

Interview Guide

The Rural Ambassador Award provides a unique opportunity for young people around Australia and New Zealand to expand their horizons. The Award is aimed at youth and provides them with an opportunity to play a greater role in promoting and supporting the rural sector.

1. Welcome the Competitor.

By welcoming the Competitor the objective is to set them at ease for the judging session.

2. Introduction of each Judge individually:

- a. Selected by the Host Royal Agricultural Society.
- b. ASA National Finals Working Group.
- c. Selected by the Host Royal Agricultural Society.
- d. ASA National Championship Working Group.

By introducing each Judge individually will indicate if the Competitor can recall names easily. The successful Competitor will need this recall and use this skill in their duties as National Rural Ambassador.

3. Explain the interview process to the Competitor:

By keeping to a format and explaining the judging process it shows the Competitor that each Competitor has an equal opportunity and that the Judges are showing no favoritism. It is also important to show there are no surprises to come in the judging process.

- a. The interview being broken down into four parts:
 - i. The first part as Judges we would like you to spend a couple of minutes to tell us about yourself and your background.
 - ii. The second part is a number of set questions that we will ask every Competitor.
 - iii. There will be enough time towards the end for you to ask any questions of us and we will answer them the best we can.
 - iv. To finish you will be given the opportunity to tell us anything you may have thought of during the interview period.

This part of the interview gives the Competitor the opportunity to portray oneself, give additional information to their C.V. including their strengths and particular passions.

4. Ask the Competitor to start with a couple of minutes to tell us about themselves.
5. Lead into the set questions that you will ask all Competitors.

It is important that all Competitors are measured equally and therefore asked the same questions. Questions should be asked by all four Judges and the questions should be open ended thereby allowing the Competitor plenty of time to elaborate fully on their answer.

There will be other questions that lead from the original one which can be asked and explored should the Judges deem it necessary and appropriate.

NATIONAL ASA

RURAL AMBASSADOR AWARD

6. Ask the Competitor if they have questions for any of the Judges.

It is important that the Competitor can ask a spontaneous question of some kind (as they would during a normal conversation). This gives the Competitor another opportunity to show their skills.

7. Invite them to add any information that they feel that the Judges should know.

Sometimes there is something that a Competitor may want to say that will give the Judges a good opinion or that the Competitor has thought of during the interview. As it is the Competitor's interview every effort should be made to give them the opportunity to have their say and to show their worth.

8. Thank the Competitor for their time and wish them all the best.
